

Meet Evan Milne.

VIC Committee

The Short...

As one of the longest serving committee members of Sommeliers Australia, Evan's heart is in supporting the future of the wine industry.

He owns the distribution company #StockonHand, and makes wines under his label, Mutual Promise.

The Long...

Evan cut his teeth in hospitality working for lauded restaurants such as Vue de Monde, Royal Mail Hotel and Walters Wine Bar, before eventually running his own place in Torquay called Scorched.

Having fallen in love with wines, his next venture tied him closer to the grape. His reliable and friendly nature made it an easy decision to start distributing wines through #StockonHand, where he curates like-minded, quality small producers into his portfolio.

His love of wines also drove him to make them, using non-classical grape varieties from all over Victoria, in a collaborative process with other winemakers.
